About CHEMTECH Leadership & Excellence Awards:

Throughout the history, engineering has driven the advancement of civilizations. The last hundred years have witnessed engineering excellence at its best and this, which has been the golden era for the manufacturing industry globally. Chemical engineers have often been referred to as "Universal Engineers" and backbone of the manufacturing industry, who have been at the core of building what we see today as the modern society. Since its inception in 1975, CHEMTECH has always strived to accord an international status to chemical engineering industry, which has been the driving force behind this historic journey of memorable milestones. In all its pursuits CHEMTECH has been following the motto that merit should be recognised duly and patronised to ensure growth and progress in any sphere of human endeavour. In 1983, CHEMTECH decided to recognise priceless contribution of visionaries and technocrats to Indian chemical industry who were setting the foundation of Indian chemical industry and paving the way for the progress for future generations and launched CHEMTECH CEW & CHEMTECH PBW Leadership & Excellence Awards.
